Sometimes,
being a parent takes
a lot of teamwork

We'd like to be on your team.

When children are sick, their needs and behaviors change. Even a common cold can cause changes. Some children, however, have needs that don't pass as quickly as a cold. They may have a complicated or chronic medical condition. They may have develop mental problems. They may have trouble paying attention or behaving in school.

It can be difficult to find people who understand children with special healthcare needs. And it's even harder to find people to give you the help you need to care for them.

The Fernandes Center for Children & Families at Saint Anne's Hospital can help. We focus on what children need to function better. Working together with you and your doctor, we can provide the help you need.

At The Fernandes Center for Children & Families, we look forward to welcoming you and, most of all, to becoming part of your team.
